

Péter Márton

Doctoral School of Political Science
Central European University
Nádor Utca 9. 1051-Budapest Hungary

Phone: +36.70.776.7909

Email: marton_peter@phd.ceu.edu

PHD PROFILE: <https://pds.ceu.edu/people/peter-marton>

TEACHING PORTFOLIO: <http://portfolio.ceu.edu/view/view.php?t=stPY3vfJbDE4i6zkNoWG>

Born: September 15, 1989—Budapest, Hungary Nationality: Hungarian

Current position

Ph.D. Researcher in Political Science, CEU, Budapest

Looking to further develop and grow as a teacher through the Global Teaching Fellowship Program.

Education

2009-2012	BA in International Relations, ELTE Budapest
2012-2014	MA in International Relations, Corvinus University, Budapest
2014-2015	MA in International Relations, Central European University, Budapest
2014-present	PHD in Political Science, Central European University, Budapest

Work Experience

2011-4 months	Hungarian Institute of International Affairs, Intern - Providing policy analysis on developments in EU energy package regulation
2013-9 months	European Parliament, Head Intern at Office of MEP (AGRI and ENVI Committees) - Coordinating other interns, drafting summaries of meetings, providing analysis, drafting press communication
2014-4 months	United States Embassy in Budapest, Intern at Political/Economic Section - Assisting U.S. diplomats in preparing for meetings, press monitoring, providing analysis of Hungarian legislative politics
2015-2 months	Hungarian Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Intern at Office of Strategic Planning - Preparing a daily press briefing for several ministry units, assisting in production of government policy briefs

Conference Participation

2017	Annual Doctoral Conference, Central European University, Budapest. Paper Giver: "Functionalism and legitimacy seeking on a collision course: the case of CETA"
2017	47 th UACES General Conference, Jagellonian University, Krakow. Paper Giver: "Explaining the CETA outcome: Searching for legitimacy in all the wrong places"

2018 Workshop on 'Challenges and Opportunities for EU Parliamentary Democracy: Brexit and Beyond'. Center for European Research in Maastricht (CERIM), Brussels. Paper Giver: "Politicization and its effects: Recalibrating the executive-legislative relationship in EU trade policy"

Journal Articles

Forthcoming Gozdziaik E. & Márton P. "Where the Wild Things Are: Using religion and women to protect Christian identity in Central Europe". Central and Eastern European Migration Review

Forthcoming Márton P. "Revisiting the European Convention: The Origins of the EP Veto over International Commercial Treaties". European Politics and Society

Teaching

2016-17 Teaching Assistant for Associate Prof. Evelyne Hübscher "Public Policy, the Policy Process and Policy Analysis". Central European University, School of Public Policy

2017 Teaching Assistant for Prof. Rasmus Pedersen, "Process Tracing methodology I - Foundations and Guidelines". ECPR Summer School in Methods and Techniques

2017-18 Teaching Assistant for Associate Prof. Evelyne Hübscher, Prof. Julia Buxton and Prof. Ágnes Bátori, "Policy Analysis". Central European University, School of Public Policy

2017-18 Teaching Assistant for Prof. Wolfgang Reninicke, "International Organizations: Past, Present, Future". Central European University, School of Public Policy

Language Skills

Hungarian Native

English C2, near native, Cambridge Certificate

Spanish C2, fluent in reading, writing and speaking

Other Skills and Qualifications

2018 Certificate in Teaching and Learning, Central European University
NVivo / AtlasTi - proficient in the use of Computer Assisted Qualitative Data Analysis Software
Process Tracing Methodology
Elite Interviewing
Intermediate in Computer Assisted Quantitative Data Analysis with R, Wordfish
L^AT_EX - intermediate proficiency