

CALL FOR PAPERS 9th Graduate Network Conference

29-31 March 2017
Universitat Pompeu Fabra, Barcelona

The ninth conference of the European Graduate Network in political science will be hosted by the Universitat Pompeu Fabra, Barcelona from 29 to 31 March 2017. The conference gives PhD students of the network universities the opportunity to present and discuss their research projects and to refine their theoretical and methodological approaches. It allows for in-depth discussions and thorough feedback since each contribution is devoted extensive attention.

PhD students in all stages of their doctoral research are invited to submit an abstract. Accordingly, papers will reflect the current state of research and can range from early research drafts to fully-fledged papers. Similarly, all political science topics are welcome since panels will be organized following the received proposals.

Application Instructions

All PhD students of the network are invited to submit an abstract of maximum 300 words by 8 January 2017 the latest to gnc2017@upf.edu. Abstracts should include the research question, theoretical framework and methods used. They should also provide three to five keywords and a sub-disciplinary classification (e.g. Political Theory, Comparative Politics, International Relations, European Studies, Political Sociology, Political Economy, Social Inequalities). Please, also indicate your department, year of study as well as contact details. Successful applicants will be informed by 25 January 2017. Conference papers should be submitted by 15 March 2017.

The host institution offers accommodation and meals during the time of the conference. As for travel expenses, they have to be covered by participants and their respective universities. In case of coauthored contributions, only one of the authors may take part in the conference.

The European Graduate Network

The European Graduate Network (EGN) brings together graduate students of social sciences from 8 leading European universities: Central European University (CEU), Budapest, Hungary; European University Institute (EUI), Florence, Italy; Humboldt Universität (HU), Berlin, Germany; Scuola Normale Superiore – Istituto di Scienze Umane e Sociali (SNS), Florence, Italy; Institut d'Études Politiques (SciencesPo), Paris, France; Institute for Advanced Studies (HIS), Vienna, Austria; London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE), London, United Kingdom; and Universitat Pompeu Fabra (UPF), Barcelona, Spain.

The network was initiated by students and aims to provide opportunities for PhD students to improve their research projects, to discuss methodological tools and to practice presenting and discussing academic work. It encourages and facilitates collaborative research of PhD students from the participating universities and aims at establishing academic linkages and cooperation. Students in their first years of studies are specifically encouraged to participate. To date, EGN has organized conferences in Florence (2007), Budapest (2008), Barcelona (2010), Berlin (2012), London (2013), Paris (2014), Florence (2015) and Budapest (2016).

Programme

The conference will consist of 8 panels, with 7-8 students each. The panels will reflect the topics, methods and wishes presented by participants. They will be chaired by senior member of faculty from the network universities. Each student will present his/her paper and will also comment on the paper of another student in his/her panel. 45 minutes to 1 hour will be spent on each paper. For the sake of the quality and depth of post-presentation discussions, it is expected that each participant reads all 7 to 8 papers in his/her panel.
